I hope you weren't expecting your typical THRASHER type pool, but what we found turned out to be 100% fun!! The pool is at a city park and after taking care of a few leaks became a great session

The Pool crew minus Eric. From L to R is Biff, Chuck, Dan, Matt.

Although you'll probably be hassled by police AND ANGRY bussiness OWNERS, G.B. is still worth SESSIONING. Two of the best spots ARE: the burger King bank AND blessings. Both have transitions but At b.k.b. theres A curb that must have been Made to grind. At Blessings there is A loading Dock thats great to acid drop and build RAMPS

Against with scrap wood thats usually Laying about.

Detroit

By far, our most INTENSE MISSION EVER. From the time Chuck and I got there to the NEXT night when we left, it was nothing but chaos. We skated every parking RAMP and alley in Downtown Detroit. We even skated the bridge going to CANADA. The only probleas we had was parking the car. No, we didn't meet ANY SKATERZ but we plan on doing it AGAIN with the rest of the SKATE FUX.

SPEAK OUT

We, the future Post-Nuclear Vets of World War III demand our medals, now, while we're still alive to collect!!!

NO MATTER WHAT IT TAKES!

ASHES TO ASHES

peace

...ments must cease
...building arms to keep the peace"
Even though the people want a freeze
They keep building all the arms they please

Ashes to Ashes
Dust to Dust
If things don't change
Our world willbe lost

One mistake starts the fight
Solving problems the wrong way, with might
People's stomachs getting tight
Sensing the trouble in sight

Ashes to Ashes
Dust to Dust
Things, they did not change
And now our world is lost...

PEACE IN OUR TIME?

YOU COULD LOOK IT UP

GORE STORIES

The pictures shown are of

Dan Menne, a victim of a high-speed skin burner at Wildwood.

Traveling at 30+ mph, wheel-bite caused Dan to hit head first and then grind off the skin on his arms, back and knees. Yes, he healed. Yes, he still skates
